

Class of IAHSI – 2019

Peter Hurlen

Petter Hurlen, MD, MS, PhD is Head of the Clinical Informatics Unit at Akershus University Hospital. He has degrees in medicine, computer science and health services research. He has done extensive work in electronic health records, including initiating the DocuLive EPR and chairing the first European pre-standard for EHRs (CEN TC251). His research also includes Radiology Informatics and Natural Language Processing. His current research interest is Citizen oriented services. Hurlen has served more than 25 years at the Board of the Norwegian Society for Health Informatics, and is currently Secretary to IMIA.