

Inaugural Class of IAHSI – 2017

Siaw-Teng Liaw

I am a recognized clinical informatics practitioner, educator and researcher as indicated by invited papers, plenary presentations, consultancies, professional committees, and peer-review panels for national and international competitive grants and scientific conferences. My digital health R&D program includes data analytics of observational data in EHRs, co-creation of integrated person-centred eHealth care models and e-tools to improve clinical decisions, citizen/community engagement, access, equity and social enterprise to improve individual and population health of vulnerable and underserved communities. I am the Director, WHO Collaborating Centre on eHealth; Chair, IMIA Primary Care Informatics WG; Member, Working Council of the Asia eHealth Information Network; and Associate Editor, Int J Med Informatics.