

Class of IAHSI - 2021

Luis Fernandez-Luque

Luis Fernandez-Luque, PhD, is the Chief Scientific Officer at Adhera Health, Inc., a Precision Digital Therapeutics company (Palo Alto, CA, USA). He has been involved in digital health research for more than 15 years. He is a current member of the American Medical Informatics Association and the Spanish Medical Informatics Association. He was a founding member of the IMIA Participatory Health and Social Media Working Group. Currently, he serves as IMIA Vice-President for WGs and SIG. He has conducted research in medical informatics across the globe, including Harvard Medical University (US), University of Minnesota (US), Taipei Medical University (Taiwan) and University of Tromso (Norway) among others. Further background about Luis can be found here.