

Inaugural Class of IAHSI – 2017

Heimar de Fatima Marin

Prof. Heimar de Fatima Marin is Alumni Professor at the Federal University of São Paulo, advocating technology and communication in nursing and healthcare. She was a Fellow of the Division of Clinical Computing at Harvard Medical School under mentoring of Professor Charles Safran and recently conducted a Sabbatical period at Yale School of Medicine – Biomedical Informatics & Data Science Departments chaired by Dr Lucila Ohno-Machado. Dr Marin has held many President, Chair and director positions over her career including President of the Brazilian Society of Health Informatics, Chair for IMIA NI (Nursing Informatics), Director of the Graduate Program in Health Informatics, and Executive Coordinator of the Strategic Committee of UNIFESP Information Technology and Management Committee, for the Hospital University /Hospital Sao Paulo.

Dr. Marin is currently the Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Medical Informatics and in 2009 she founded the Journal of Health Informatics of the Brazilian Society of Health Informatics, as Chief Editor. Dr Marin is the Scientific Coordinator of the ICT in Health research conducted by CETIC (Center for Research and Statistics) – Brazilian Network Information Center. She also acted as consultant at WHO-EURO in the project Guidance on Digitalization for Health Information Systems.