

Class of IAHSI – 2019

Blackford Middleton

Blackford Middleton is Chief Informatics & Innovation Officer at Apervita, Inc., which provides a platform for clinical computing and the democratization of healthcare data and analytics. He is Past-Chair of AMIA, and of HIMSS, and of the CPRI. Previously, he was a professor of Biomedical Informatics, and or of Medicine, at Stanford, Harvard, and Vanderbilt Universities, and he held executive roles at Stanford (CMIO), MedicaLogic/ Medscape (CMO), Partners Healthcare System (Director, Clinical Informatics R&D), and at Vanderbilt (CIO).