

Inaugural Class of IAHSI – 2024

Frank Oemig

Frank Oemig, PhD FHL7, is currently employed as lead solution leader for interoperability at Oracle Cerner.

He has studied computer science and theoretical medicine at the Universities in Dortmund and Bochum (Germany) in the mid eighties.

He has worked in different roles for all relevant HIS vendors in Germany. In addition, he also contributed significantly at national (GMDS/EFMI) and international conferences (MIE and MedInfo) to different workshop and educational sessions as well as international standardization bodies.

The list of his publications holds more than 200 articles and 4 books about interoperability, architecture and knowledge representation, including the “Healthcare Interoperability Standards Compliance Handbook”.