

Class of IAHSI - 2020

Mahmood Tara

Dr. Tara (MD, PhD) is a physician and health informatician with 25 years history of work in IT application in medicine. Dr. Tara is currently the assistant professor at Mashhad University of Medical Sciences (mums.ac.ir), the chairman of the board for medical informatics and health information programs at the Ministry of Health, the professional consultant to WHO (EMRO) region, and a member at roster of experts in WHO digital health group. He was the former chief information officer at the Ministry of Health leading several health informatics mega-projects such as NICEHR (Nationally-Integrated Citizen EHR), NHIS (National Health Information System), and NHIO (National Health Information Observatory). As health informatics consultant, he has been promoting the application of health information management in the region, including countries such as Sudan, Pakistan, Iraq, Afghanistan, and Yemen, and providing HIT/HI-based assistance to those countries.

Dr. Tara has authored two national strategic plan and roadmap on both Iran eHealth Program and also Iran e-insurance system (including national ePrescription Architecture), supervised 15 MSc and PhD students, ran more than 20 research projects, and published many papers in peer-reviewed journals. He has received several academic awards for excellence in academic performance and innovation in education.